

VALUES THAT CAN'T BE EQUALED

NEITHER CAN THEY BE DUPLICATED

ELEVEN DIFFERENT STYLES OF WHITE SKIRTS at $1.00. Never have we offered such a line of Skirts for $1.00. No, not even when you could buy good cotton at 7c a yard. You'll see Skirts catalogued—yes, even see them right on the counters of your home stores—with less quality, styles and fulness, priced at $1.50 each. JUST TEN DAYS' SELLING of these at $1.00, and every one will go to $1.25, $1.38 and $1.50 each (if there are any left). Note the descriptions:

AT $1.00, a Skirt with a 16 inch flounce, having two rows of wide cotton cluny insertion and one of lace, divided off by eleven rows of cluster tucks. Of good width and heavy cotton top.

AT $1.00, a Skirt with a 16 inch flounce, having four rows of wide insertion and one row of lace, with five rows of cluster tucks. This has a cambric top.

AT $1.00, a Skirt with a 16 inch ruffle, having two rows of wide insertion, separated by one row of hemstitching and flounced with five rows of tucks and one row of hemstitching.

Not only these, but eight other styles equally as good or better than the above.

FOUR DIFFERENT STYLES OF WHITE SKIRTS AT $1.25

Every one of the above are a good 25 per cent less than they can possibly be sold for on today's market. These include lace, hamburger and fine tuck flounces on a good quality of cotton or cambric top. There are less than 30 of these and at this price they won't last long.

SEVEN DIFFERENT STYLES OF WHITE SKIRTS AT $1.75

Here are 25 Skirts, every one of them fresh and clean and containing value that can't be equaled for $2.25 elsewhere. Fine, pretty blind and open hamburger embroidery and lace trimmed flounces. All good, full widths, made of cotton much above what we call a medium grade today.

EIGHT DIFFERENT STYLES OF WHITE SKIRTS AT $2.25

Just compare these—the widths, qualities of materials and style—with any $2.75 to $3.00 Skirt found elsewhere. There are about 70 of these and it's a "toss up" as to which is the prettiest.

How can we get such values? Simply this way—nearly every one of the above Skirts were bought eight to ten months ago, when cotton products were about half what they are today.

Pardon us if we may have seemed to be over-enthusiastic. When you see these Skirts you will appreciate the situation fully.
